student life

S U M M E R

Summer for DHS students is a time to relax and have fun. Many students take this time to make money. Some more common jobs are lifeguarding, babysitting, being a counselor, and working in retail. Other more common things to do are going to camp, going on teen tours to California, Europe, Israel and many other places. This is the second year students are expected to read summer reading books so school is not forgotten. Summer is a vacation well deserved for all Deerfield High School students. Seen in numbered photos: 1. Christitne Kelly, Megan Lapin, Tamra Kraus; 2. Shira Wenig and Ryan Boothe; 3. Jordan Dubnow; 4. Brett Pessis, Emily Berger and Jonah Lowenthal; 5. Matt Knitch 6. Vickie Kozonis, Samantha Glass, Coach Kaps, Erin Doherty, Karin Hammerberg, Jen Buchanan, Kate Haber and Jenny Eck; 11. Megan Harty, Nicole Miller, Jenny O'Neill, Nicole Brown and Mary Cole.

FrereS

Each year, DHS style changes. Whether bell bottoms, rolled jeans, or hemp necklaces, the 70's has definitely made an impact. Guys continue to wear baggy jeans and hats. Accessories are the new thing: cell phones, bracelets, necklaces, and minimal make-up are showing up everywhere. Places to shop include E-Street, My Generation, Pacific Sun, Gap, J-Crew, Structure, and Ambercrombie and Fitch. Others blew the bank when buying cars; Jeeps and other SUV's dominate Deerfield's parking spaces. Students drive around Deerfield listening to Dave Matthews Band, Phish, and other music. In fact, many students chose to wake up early on the weekends, a feat in and of itself, to stand in line at Dominick's Ticket Master to buy tickets to see their favorite band in concert. They were also seen at movies and restaurants enjoying their time off from a long week of school. Seen in numbered photos: 1. Emily Israel and Noah Pettit; 2. and 3. Jim Sinkovitz and Steve Lash; 5. homecoming

Homecoming Spirit Week is one of the best weeks of the year. Students participated in four dress up days: Pajama Day, Disco Day, Class Color Day, and Red and Grey Day. Class color day is also a favorite. The Seniors in black really intimidated the little Freshmen in white!! On Friday night, the Pep Rally was a great time. The Jesse White Tumblers were there and put on a great show. Jodi Hickey and Zach Danziger were Homecoming King and Queen, and Colleen Jackson and Chris Krakowski were the Senior Attendants. Other Attendants were Erin Greeter and John Norris (juniors), Molly Jones and Eyal Halamish (sophomores), and Courtney Sayner and Brett Lemmick (freshman). On Saturday morning was the Homecoming Parade, where Warrior supporters lined the streets to watch DHS students as they marched towards the high school. Seen in numbered photos: 1. Shira Wenig and Carly Sobel; 2. Candice Gutmann and Jason Milstein; 3. the Sophomore class; 4. Senior guys at the Pep Rally; 5. the Freshmen class; 6. Jodi Hickey and Chris Krakowski; 7. Nicole Brown and Carly Landaker; 8. Members of the swim team; 9. Mr. Chung; 10. the Junior class; 11. Jordan Dubnow, Julie Nichols, Sari Hirsch and Ben Leitschuh.

WARRIORS

The Homecoming Football game on October 14, 2000 was one of the most exciting games in recent memory. The DHS Football Team faced our rival Highland Park Giants. The stands were packed with Warrior fans, and many alumni returned to cheer on the team. We watched the Highland Park team drive down the field, and it seemed that they were about to score the tying touchdown in the last minute of the game. Then, the Giants' quarterback mistakenly spiked down the ball, and the game was over. The Warriors won, with a score of 14-7. Seen in numbered photos: 2. DHS Cheerleaders exciting the crowd; 3. The football team runs into the stadium; 4. The energetic DHS Marching Band cheers on the team; 5. The Cheerleaders perform an impressive stunt; 6. Warriors at the kickoff of the first half; 7. Quarterback Kyle Gessert is ready for action; 8. DHS fans enjoy the exciting game; 9. Nick Earhart watches the action; 10. The new Warrior mascot intimidates the Giants; 11. Todd Mendolsohn, Matt Spraker and Josh Graham take a breather.

This year's Homecoming Dance, Lost in Space was a huge success. Over 700 students attended the dance, and for the first time in many years, a large number of students came in groups instead of with dates. Students enjoyed a catered dinner from Maggiano's, a caricature artist, and a great night of dancing. After the dance, many groups went downtown for various activities including boat cruises, Disney Quest, ESPN Zone, and Second City. Some students danced intimately, while others posed for Kodak moments. Seen in numbered pictures: 1. Seniors Mara Weisman, Tristan Edick, Jen Garfield and Nancy Keene; 2. Seniors Corey Lomoro, Yoni Pogofsky, and Jordan Epton; 3. Juniors Rachel Nathan and Alex Howe 4. Senior Jon Chester and Junior YuJung Kim; 5. Sophomores Jenny Frazin and Kevin Tarson; 6. Sophomores Molly Jones and Eyal Halamish; 7. Seniors Chase Kaplan, Leah White and Jonah Lowenthal; 8. Seniors Laura Cunniff and Mike Posternack; 9. Seniors Zach Danziger and Colleen Jackson; 10. Freshmen Brett Lemick and Courtney Sayner; 11. Seniors Dana Kozer, Janette Oliff and Sara Shanley.

DHS students are always looking forward to the upcoming weekend. Many students are always looking forward to the upcoming weekends many students take this time to hang out with friends and catch up on homework and sleep. A typical day on the weekends includes shopping at nearby malls, seeing movies, driving to Chicago and relaxing at home. At night students drive around, go to parties, go out to eat, or hang out at friends' houses. Sometimes students visit friends at college, or visit colleges that they are interested in attending. Seen in numbered photos: 1. Jenny Eck, Erin Doherty, Karin Hammerberg and Vickie Kozonis; 2. Emily Baum and Janna Hoffman; 3. Matt Pais and Jordan Dubnow; 4. Jamie Brown; 5. Halloween

Halloween this year was a lot of fun, and many students wore their costumes to school. Walking through the halls of DHS were butterflies, cowgirls, angels, witches, cave people, guys dressed as girls, girls dressed as guys, Cinderella, Tigger, Winnie the Pooh, the Mad Hatter, a Hershey's Kiss, devils, and Senior Danny Raskin as Chinese Take-Out. Deerfield students showed that Halloween is a tradition that they will not grow out of. Many also went trick-or-treating in Deerfield, or stayed home and scared those who were outside. Some students went trick-or-treating for cans to donate to the PADS Homeless Shelter through the Student Council Canned Food Drive. Seen in numbered photos: 1. Shira Wenig; 2. Staci Propp and Jenna Sacks; 3. Christine Kelly and Jamie Brown; 4. Jenny Scher and Logan Baren; 5. Jeremy Gerber and Alex Litchfield; 6. Ben Pollack and Phil Ryu; 7. Jon Linton; 8. Jacqui Heineman plays a comical nun character taking refuge from the cold.

House of Blue Leaves was a comedy that captured audiences with its zany characters, hilarious action, and hidden indictment of the American Dream. After the countless hours, the final product was an aesthetically pleasing, and entertaining show. Jason Frydman had a breakthrough performance, which left many in awe. Anna Kacyn mastered a challenging role of an emotionally troubled middle-aged woman. Betsy Rotman had an outstanding and believable performance as well. With the principles of the show and the rest of the cast, the final product was one to remember. Everything really came together in the end.

The goal of Troubadour is to produce a magazine that showcases the writing talents of students through both poetry and prose. Troubadour begins by accepting admissions, and then hosting a series of editor-only meetings to narrow down the possibilities. Later, all students are invited to look at the remaining options, many of which will end up in Troubadour, and some of which will go to Stage Write. Then, editors create layouts for the book, based on each submission. Many are paired with photographs or drawings that are similar to the topic of the work. Troubadour is then made, and passed out to students for free. Troubadour offers a great opportunity for many students to display their talents to others.

The Theatre 1.2 Class performs its rendition of the famous scene from the Disney movie Fantasia.

"Stunts was a great experience. We all had fun making each other laugh."

~David Greis

STUNTS is the annual student written, directed, and produced variety show. This year's theme of STUNTS was fantasy, appropriately titled "Stuntasia 2000". All aspects of the show were overseen by student board members. STUNTS incorporated original acts by groups outside the cast, as well as comedy and musical troupes. Each troupe was comprised of two dozen or so talented students. The musical troupe sang original songs composed and written by students over the summer, through a process of many workshops. The comedy troupe performed skits, also written by students over the summer. The show held all auditions in October and made its debut in December. STUNTS created such a stir that seats of the auditorium were filled each night of its three night run. The students worked very hard writing, producing, directing, singing and acting to put together "Stuntasia 2000". In the end, all of the hard work payed off, resulting in a show that was both a remarkable and a sensational, and which impressed students and faculty members alike.

Each class at Deerfield High School is governed by an elected executive board. The boards plan and coordinate class activities and provide leadership and service to the school.

Homecoming is an important time for every executive board. Each board had the responsibility of making locker decorations for its entire class based on the Homecoming theme. This year, we were proud to have the Freshman Force, Stellar Sophomores, Junior Jetsons, and Solar Seniors. In addition, each board decorates a section of the cafeteria and is represented in the Homecoming parade. Sophomore Executive Board has the special task of organizing the Homecoming dance for the whole school to enjoy.

Throughout the year, executive boards meet on a weekly basis. Every board works on specific projects, and all four of them must find a way to raise funds. Blizzard, pizza, and flower sales are among the many ways executive boards raise money. In addition, the relatively small size of each board allows the members to get to know each other and work as a whole to accomplish each task. Sponsors are always available to each executive board to provide input and suggestions. Overall, the year is full of fun for executive boards, which is why many members continue the next year.

Student Council consists of several elected members from each class. These students are very involved in the school and work hard to better Deerfield. This year they held a blood drive and hosted a dance for both Deerfield and Highland Park students. They are dedicated to raising money, and helping others, as evidenced by the annual School Chest Charity Drive, the Canned-Food Drive and the Morenz Project which raises money in memory of Mr. Paul Morenz, to benefit his family. Student Council meets weekly, and is always planning for upcoming events. They enjoy the annual Student Council retreat, held in the spring.

School Chest

Co-chairs Caroline Manley and Danielle Bartelstein meet Jessica and Rachel Hess as school chest begins.

This year's School Chest raised over $65,000 for the Hess Family Fund. The money was raised to help the family pay for the surgeries that their daughters Jessica and Rachael must undergo due to the disease MPS-1 that they were born with. To raise the money, DHS students sold pizza, tacos, ice-cream, Blizzards, even hot dogs. They held 50-50 raffles, flower sales, a pancake breakfast and bagel sales. Student Council representatives organized sales to help their homerooms raise money. This year's School Chest was lengthened to four weeks, and it raised the most money in history. The school truly came together to raise money for a great charity.

"DHS should be very proud of its hard work throughout the school chest. The money and compassion given to the Hess family will continue to support and motivate the lives of Jessica and Rachel."

It's a unique organization that has a lot of importance to the school. Not a lot of schools care about student input, and DHS gives us an opportunity to have a say in how our high school education is shaped."
- Lewis Powell

The Student Curriculum Advisory Committee provides feedback to building administrators on proposed curriculum changes and discusses other curriculum related concerns such as final exams, leveling, and alternative scheduling. Deliberations of this group have helped to clarify policies and procedures, and have provided direction to departments considering the creation of new courses or the revision of existing ones. The committee is co-chaired by Assistant Principal Merle Monroe and Susan Nielsen. During the busy curriculum review season (mid-September through early November) this dedicated group of sophomores, juniors, and seniors meets Mondays during Early Bird. Once proposals for the next school are reviewed, the group meets monthly. The Committee is often asked to comment on ideas being considered by other school committees, and student members also suggest agenda items of interest to them. A Committee member for the past three years, Muhammed Mekki is one of 18 students statewide serving on the Illinois State Board of Education Student Advisory Council. Muhammed is currently chair of the Advisory Council.

Students tutoring peers

Early Bird tutoring brings two people together to enlighten each other and enrich the learning environment that DHS brings to it's students. Early Bird tutoring is used for students who's grades are 70% or less and have difficulty maintaining class expectations.

"Early Bird tutoring is more than just a program that helps kids in which they struggle. It is a learning experience for both tutor and tutee where both teach eachother."

-Stacy Weinberg

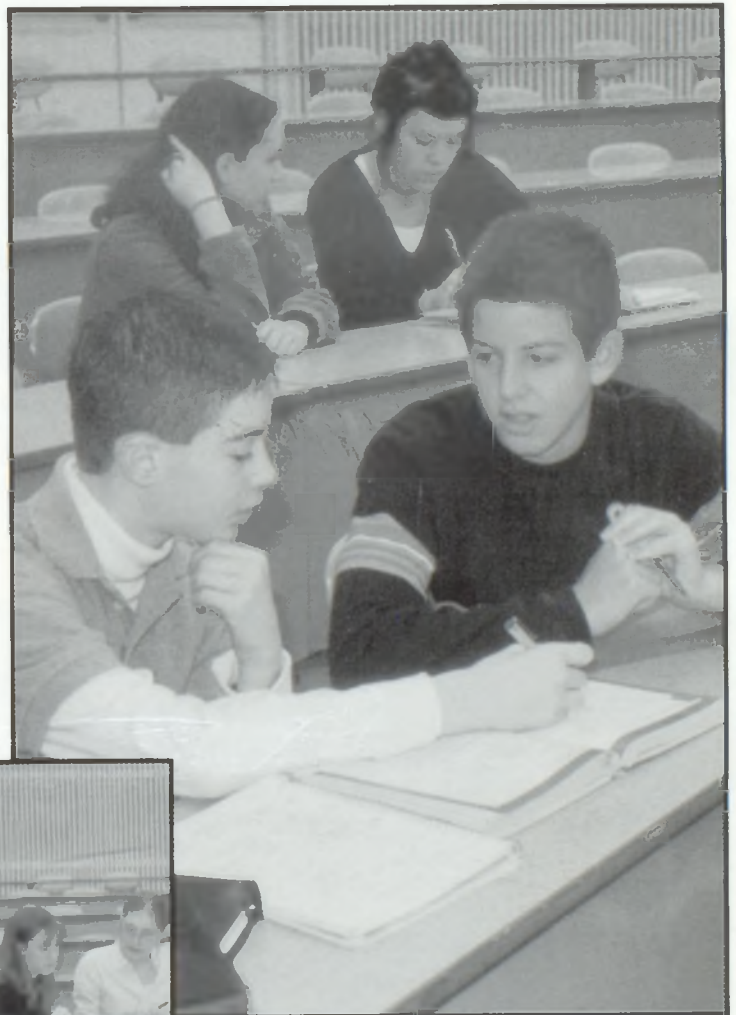

Early Bird tutoring meets 3 days a week from 7:30am to 8:05am. It is not meant to substitute the teachers instructional responsibilities, or by any means used as a disciplinary action. It is meant to help students recieve better grades and make DHS that more enjoyable.

Operation Snowball is a District and community sponsored prevention program which offers the opportunity for students to further develop healthy lifestyles. The Snowball weekends are designed to provide students with the information relevant to the issues they may be facing and opportunities to enhance skills for effective communication, decision making, and stress management. Snowball provides unique leadership opportunities for students. Students who have participated in a Snowball weekend can apply to staff a future weekend. Several staff meetings are held prior to each weekend. The student staff plays an integral role in planning and carrying out the weekend for new participants.

As taken from a 1976 DHS Yearbook...

For the most part, Deerfield remained the peaceful North Shore suburb that it has been for over the past few years. Weekend activities were limited to movies, bowling, or shopping unless one ventured to neighboring suburbs or Chicago. Big, open parties were popular, usually taking place when the host's parents were away. Many of Deerfield's early high school and junior high boys spent their weekends vandalizing. Deerfield's vandalism rate was exceptionally high. Reasons for vandalizing were boredom, thrills, and trying to get one's destruction mentioned in the Deerfield Review. The battle over whether or not to tear down the ancient train station ended with the landmark remaining, but it was reconstructed. Northbrook Court, a huge new shopping center, opened and Lake-Cook Road had to be widened. This caused many detours and excessive traffic and traffic jams in uptown Deerfield and along Waukegan Road. Governor Walker announced that when his term was over, he would return to his home in Deerfield. But to most high school students, events such as these meant little; and for them, Deerfield was a typically boring and ordinary part of suburbia.

Deerfield over

Brick in the Wall

Just a brick in the wall can never exist
For a wall would be nothing without every brick.
The many form one, a union of hearts.

The whole gaining something from each of its parts.
Opportunity calls the children of this land,
Live full, think big, smile wide, lend a hand.
Believe in yourself and you'll never fall,
Dare to make the most of your brick in the wall!

Thank you to everyone who has helped our class during our four years at DHS. Your dedication, support and love have helped to mold us into the strong individuals that we have become. Thank you, and we'll miss you!
Love, The Senior Class, 2001

Laura Cunniff~

Thank you so much for all of your hard work. We managed to survive without any huge blowouts, unlike last year's team. You were ready to compromise most of the time, and you had some great ideas. You also inspired everyone to work hard, and dedicated a lot of effort in every aspect of the book. Who knows where we would be without all of your help! Thanks so much!

Christine Kelly~

Ever since sophomore year, when that special child 'lost' our plans for this year's yearbook, we have come a long way! It was fun reminiscing! We've come a long way from the old HC days... and have "come together" to make a great yearbook!! Thanks so much for all of your help. Your energy and funny comments really made this year great. You're the best!

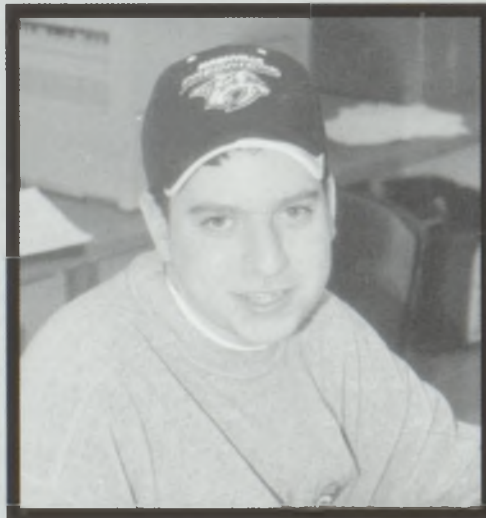

Jamie Brown~

Everyday you (and Stephanie) inspire us with your weird food, but we still love you! You have helped so much on the spreads. Some of your best work fills the pages of this yearbook, and we are proud to have you on our team. Thanks so much for all of the hard work. Also, great choices on the fonts. You are truly an inspiration to the members of the O*YAD zoo!

Sharon Bronstein~

Amazing, amazing, amazing! This is the only way to describe you. You came to Media Production every day, even though you were not enrolled in the class. You have dedicated so much to helping us get everything finished in time. We truly appreciate it, and we know that the organization section will reflect all of your effort. Thanks so much for everything you have contributed to this yearbook!

Rachel Gottlieb~

You have done so well with the sports section, a task we know is not easy in the least. The job required a lot of time and effort, and you were willing to give it just that. We know that you will be an integral part of the yearbook next year. We also know that when you are Editor-In-Chief, you will be awesome! Good luck in the future with the yearbook, and keep up that winning attitude!

Ryan Jacobson~

What a great job you did on organizations! You were always there when we needed you. You even showed up at 6:45 in the morning, waiting for a photographer that never showed up! You also dealt with whatever setback you were thrown, from missing group shots to deadlines that came much too quickly. We thank you for all of your help, and we know you will do great when you are Editor-In-Chief!

o*yad...

Zach Laks- We all know that you deserve a box, but there just wasn't enough of them to go around. You are a very understanding person, so we have confidence that you will be okay with it. You have contributed so much to the yearbook, and you should be proud of it. You also had the ability to make us all laugh during stressful times. You will be an integral part of the yearbook in years to come. Stephanie Brown- If there ever was a freshman in a box, it would be you. You were always willing to tackle anything, even the most boring of jobs. Your creativity helped us when we needed new ideas. You were also very quick in picking up the O*YAD traditions, and we know that you will keep them alive in the future. Alex Brunk- Sometimes we underestimated you, and your abilities. You did a great job, keeping us informed at every turn of the presidential election. You did a great job with the senior section. Joe DeFrank- The great scan man!! Thank you so much for all of your hard work... since the rest of us had no idea what a scanner even was. You are a Photoshop guru! Thanks for being so dedicated... if you don't come back next year, there will be no yearbook! Tyler McLeod- You've really done great work with all the different jobs we've given you this year. You've risen to every occasion and really helped us as deadlines loomed. We enjoyed getting to know you and hope to see you again next year! Shira Wenig- Once again, you managed to unleash havoc on the yearbook, due to your politically incorrect spreads. Although the yes's and no's were deleted by the management, we appreciated your humor. We were a little disappointed that your incriminating pictures never arrived this year, after so many laughs last year! Thanks for all of your help, you are the best. Nicole Brown- You were a great help, bringing us pictures whenever we needed them. We know it was hard for you to take that N*SYNC picture, but you did it with a lot of class. You also told us great stories about your adventures with Grande A, and we loved it! We know that next year you will be working just as hard next year. Amy Bredemeir- Great job on sports! You hunted down tons of information, all in the name of completing a spread. You also helped with the junior section, which we think is amazing. Thanks for everything, and come back next year! Jordan Dubnow- What would we have done without your overflowing file of pictures, each consisting of you and a pretty girl? Honestly, we are being serious. We enjoyed watching you go through a billion archive photos, in search of that one special shot, at the correct angle, of course. Thanks for everything, we couldn't have met many a deadline without your pics. Molly Garvey- Thanks for all of your great photos! You were always there and we could always count on you! Thanks again! Liz Schultz & Amy Scoma- Thank you so much for all of your hard work girls! We would have never finished the senior tributes without all of your dedication to O*YAD. You're work in sports and organizations helped to create a great yearbook, and we hope you'll join us as editors next year. Thanks again! Carrie Curriff- Thanks for your much-needed assistance on the sophomore section! You are our only hope that next year's junior section will be up to par. Ms. Haravon- You were great company, and a great help with our many copy flaws. You were always willing to stay after, and encourage us to make another deadline. Thanks for all of the hard work. Regan n' Pataky- You two crazy kids! Ever since that journalism conference in Kansas City that boasted zero attendance by the O*YAD staff, you two have been OUT OF CONTROL! We had a little fun watching you laugh at your inside jokes. Although we tried every day to make you stay behind, and answer our numerous questions, the call of food always prevailed. But honestly, you did a lot. Okay, everything. Pretty good for a pair of rookies. Thanks a bunch! Special Thanks to all of the organizations that got their information in on time. We really, really, really appreciated that. Also, thanks to the O*YAD pets: the rock, the fish, the llama, and our special little friend, the mouse. Thank you also to Michelle Litteken for sending out the senior tribute letters.
